4. Ascertain if he has knowledge of airplanes or parachuting (i.e. private pilot's license, skydiving experience, or military jump experience).
5. Obtain current photograph, color if possible, to display to witnesses. (Note: All NORJAK eyewitnesses have been repeatedly contacted and have reviewed numerous photographs. Up to now they have been extremely cooperative, not withstanding the many contacts they have endured both at work and at home. Based on the above, these witnesses will not be contacted to view photographs unless there is no other way to eliminate a suspect).
6. Compare suspect's fingerprints and palm prints with NORJAK partials on file in the Identification Bureau.
7. Ascertain if he is in any way familiar with the Pacific Northwest area and in particular if he ever flew over this area.
8. Check current financial situation and contrast it to his situation prior to NORJAK.
9. Determine if he smokes cigarettes or if he ever smoked cigarettes. (Note: Unsub smoked Raleigh cigarettes).
10. Determine if he was registered at a motel or hotel near the Portland Airport just prior to NORJAK.
11. Determine if he made any trial runs prior to NORJAK on airlines flying between Portland and Seattle.
12. Determine if he has a safe deposit box and consider feasibility of obtaining a court order to determine its contents.
13. Compare his hair to hair fiber found on NORJAK airplane.

believed unsub was not well prepared for the hijacking and had not thoroughly thought the hijacking out, he most probably always carries a small pocket knife with him.

The following information tends to indicate unsub was somewhat conservative in his thinking and dress:

1. Short style hair
2. Age mid 40's
3. Dark colored suit, dark colored raincoat, white shirt, narrow black tie.
4. Unsub did not swear and showed a great deal of respect for the stewardesses on the airline because they were women. (Unsub engaged in a small argument with one of the passengers, as well as experiencing extremely tense and nervous situations, and through it all he never used profane language - this might indicate he is possibly a religious man. Since he did drink, and since he is possibly religious, he probably is not a Baptist or Mormon.)

The following information tends to indicate Unsub possibly possessed athletic ability:

1. His physical build was described as average to well built, even though his age was described as in his mid-40's.
2. Unsub exhibited some physical dexterity using his hands and a small knife.
3. Unsub apparently parachuted from an aircraft at night; something that would require no small degree of physical ability.

It is felt unsub possibly maintains his physical well being through regular exercise.

SE 164-81

The following information tends to indicate that Unsub was a gentleman:

1. He offered to tip the stewardesses on the NORJAK flight after he received his ransom money. He did not offer them ransom money as the tip, but used his own money.
2. During the entire hijacking he did not use profane language.
3. Throughout the hijacking he maintained a calm demeanor and spoke low and intelligently.

The following information tends to indicate Unsub lived in the northwest area at some time in his life:

1. Unsub knew the distance from McChord to Sea-Tac and recognized Tacoma, Washington from the air.
2. Unsub was dressed in a suit and lightweight overcoat which is commonly worn by many northwest area residents.
3. No accent or unusual speech mannerisms were detected by the Northwest Airlines stewardesses who had a chance to observe him.

SPORT PARACHUTIST

The hijacker is probably not a sports parachutist nor is he a member of a sport parachute club. The reasons for this are as follows:

1. The hijacker requested two back parachutes and two front parachutes. He gave no specific instructions as to the type of parachute that he desired. (i.e. a sports parachutist would probably have requested a steerable sport

Title: UNKNOWN SUBJECT;
NORTHWEST AIRLINES FLIGHT #350,
PORTLAND, OREGON, TO SEATTLE, WASHINGTON
NOVEMBER 24, 1971

Character: CRIME ABOARD AIRCRAFT - HIJACKING; EXTORTION

Synopsis: On November 24, 1971, a white male skyjacked a Northwest Airlines Flight from Portland to Seattle. The hijacker demanded and received $200,000 and four parachutes upon landing at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport. After receiving the ransom money, the hijacker allowed the passengers to leave. The plane then took off for Reno and at 8:11 p.m. a pressure oscillation was noted by the plane's crew. That pressure oscillation was probably caused by the hijacker leaving the aircraft. Search of the aircraft at Reno revealed the hijacker was not in the plane when it landed. Extensive searches of the area into which the hijacker would have landed failed to locate the hijacker or any evidence of value. The initial black and white artist composite drawing of the hijacker was changed to a color sketch to more accurately reflect the hijacker's age and swarthy complexion.

It is apparent from the following excerpts, taken from logs maintained by ground personnel on November 24, 1971, that the hijacker exited the airplane at 8:11 p.m. local time.

When the hijacker jumped, the air stairs were forced closed causing an increase in air pressure similar to shutting a car door with the windows up. As this pressure increase occurred the co-pilot turned to look at the cabin rate of climb meter and in doing so his communications ear plug was pulled from his ear.

The co-pilot's comments at this time were being recorded on a tape recorder which had previously been started on a time standard signal. Through careful play back and sequencing, the time of the pressure oscillation caused by the air stairs closing after Unsub departed was determined to be 8:11 p.m. local time.

Re Seattle airtel to Portland, dated 7/16/75.

For information of Seattle, [redacted] Oregon; b6 per FBI is well-known to the Portland Office. He made several separate b7C per FBI allegations concerning identification of UNSUB and location of ransom in this matter. Extensive investigation has resolved them all and no information is known to Portland indicating any possible connection or involvement or knowledge in this case on the part of [redacted]

According to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) authorities at Portland, [redacted] is an airplane pilot of many years' experience. He was seriously injured in an airplane crash a number of years ago, suffering head injuries which have disqualified him for licensing in any aviation capacity. FAA files show a record of bizarre behavior.

It is noted that [redacted] has made numerous incoherent b6 per FBI telephone calls to Portland Agents and has also authored incoherent b7C per FBI letters.

Portland is aware of the [redacted] concerning an [redacted] has previously attempted to draw the Portland Office into involvement in that matter. Portland feels that the information precipitating referenced airtel is in furtherance of those efforts. Accordingly, no further inquiry in this matter should be pursued.

RE: GARY E. SANDAL

SA [ ] from Chicago called and advised that there is no photograph of SANDAL at Rockford, Illinois; however, two copies of his photograph were sent to DON HINEMAN, FAA, Kansas City, Missouri. He advised that he has considerable information concerning SANDAL, among which is the fact that he is a sky diver and has made over 100 jumps. I asked him to send the background information he has on SANDAL in a teletype.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] provided five reels of magnetic recording tape which contained a copy of the recorded transmissions between Northwest Airlines Flight #305 and the Sea-Tac Approach Tower on November 24, 1971. These tapes covered all transmissions between Flight #305 and the Tower while the airplane was in a 30 mile radius of Sea-Tac.

According to [REDACTED] these recorded tapes were obtained by him from [REDACTED] on December 3, 1971. The original tapes are maintained under the supervision of [REDACTED]

The transcriptions of the various tape recordings do not show a time for each transmission; however, each tape does show the time at which the tape began and at which time it ended. The times were maintained in Greenwich Mean Time and for convenience in reading these logs, an insertion is made in these logs to Pacific Standard Time.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

1Date 11/29/71

On this date, the reporting Agent made available to Senior Master Sergeant [redacted] and Tech Sergeant [redacted] of Nellis Air Force Base, a parachute which had been opened and abandoned on a Boeing 727 Northwest Orient airplane, at Reno, Nevada, on the night of November 24, 1971. [redacted] at Nellis Air Force Base and [redacted]

In the presence of the reporting Agent, these men examined said parachute, and announced that prior to its having been released from its container by someone pulling the rip cord, it was in operational condition and could have been utilized for a parachute jump. They advised that someone had cut the lines attaching the chute itself to the canvas pack it was originally packed in. They also noted that while the nylon chute itself was in good condition, two of the 24 nylon lines attaching same to the canvas pack had been cut and removed. They advised that this type of parachute was generally used by sky jumpers inasmuch as the pilot chute had been removed and removal was noted on the inspection card contained in a pocket of the canvas pack. This card identified the parachute as a 24 foot Ripstock type; DA-58-53912 as the serial number; manufactured in October 1959; owned by the Seattle Sky Sports, Issaquah, Washington. This card showed that the parachute had been inspected and repacked on September 16, 1971, at Issaquah, Washington, by Rigger E. S. COSSEY, Riggers License Number 1579638.

Sergeant [redacted] stated that his expert opinion that said parachute was in operational condition prior to its release from its canvas pack by the pulling of the rip cord was contingent on the fact that no one had opened and repacked said parachute subsequent to its having been inspected and repacked by Rigger E. S. COSSEY as noted on the inspection card record contained in the canvas pack at time of his examination. He advised that all riggers of parachutes are licensed and when they sign the inspection card they are certifying that said parachute is packed so as to be in a life saving condition. Therefore, he is of the opinion that whoever pulled the rip cord and released the chute from its canvas pack, then proceeded to cut the shroud lines frge of the canvas pack and also cut and removed two of the shroud lines.

On this date [redacted] and [redacted] Penneys Store Number 44 located on Maryland Parkway, were interviewed by the reporting agent. They were shown a black snap-on tie with a Towncraft label and #3 Penneys also on the label.

[redacted] advised that to his knowledge it would be impossible to tell at what store or location same was purchased. He stated that the #3 signified that the tie sold for one dollar and a half. He advised that the tie was of polyester material and washable and as such was a favorite item worn by waiters or busboys or bartenders.

[redacted] checked the tie counter of that store and exhibited the same type of tie, as to color and material and snap on, but this tie was approximately two and one half times the width of the one shown to him by the reporting agent. He stated that it has been at least a year, and probably a year and a half, since that store handled the narrow type. He advised that these ties are not a dress-type tie but usually worn by working people. He advised that these ties are usually purchased by that store in bulk orders of thirty to forty dozen at a time.

Regarding the tie clasp with the imitation pearl centerpiece, attached to the tie, they concurred in advising that they would have no way knowing where it had been manufactured or sold.

[redacted] residence [redacted]
[redacted] telephone [redacted] was interviewed at the Reno Airport, Reno, Nevada, on the late evening of November 24, 1971 and early morning hours of November 25, 1971. He advised [redacted] [redacted] on Northwest Airlines Flight 305.

[redacted] noted that he was present during the interviews of hostess [redacted] and third officer [redacted] [redacted] and concurred with the information as supplied by them.

He recalled that the hijacker had indicated the bomb had an electrical fuse and instructed the hostess that radio transmissions be limited as much as possible so that they would not set it off.

He advised that the landing at Seattle was made at 5:45 P.M., Pacific Standard Time, and that the hijacker had indicated that once the money and parachutes were brought on board and that re-fueling was simultaneously taking place, the passengers would be permitted to depart.

[redacted] also stated that there was a delay on the ground in securing the chest-type parachutes and when they did not arrive as quickly as had been hoped for, the crew, through hostess [redacted], requested permission to land anyway without them and the hijacker refused permission for same.
At some point in negotiations with the hijacker, he indicated an awareness that parachutes would be obtained from McChord Air Force Base and indicated that it was only 20 miles away from the Seattle Airport.

[redacted] added that after take-off at 7:36 P.M., they received a call from the hijacker around 7:42 P.M., at which time he indicated that he was unable to get the stairs lowered in flight. They then slowed down the aircraft air speed and subsequently observed the cockpit signal light that the rear stairs were down. At that time the Captain instructed the hijacker to sound the bell on the intercom in the event he wished to make any further contact with them, which he agreed to do.

[redacted] residence [redacted]
[redacted] was interviewed at the Reno Airport, Reno, Nevada, on the late evening of November 24, 1971, and early morning hours of November 25, 1971. He [redacted] on Northwest Airlines Flight 305.

b6
b7c

[redacted] advised that according to some notes he had made concerning the incident, it was at 2759 Zulu time or 3:59 p.m. Pacific Standard Time that he received an emergency signal from hostess [redacted] on the intercom with a series of bells signaling that they had trouble on board.
They had a pre-arranged flight signal for such emergencies and he made a notation in his book of the time of this notification.

Almost immediately thereafter, he received a note from [redacted] advising she thought they were being hijacked and added she was not kidding.

Subsequently, hostess [redacted] brought a note on what appeared to be a standard 6 x 9 tablet written with a felt pen as well as an envelope that had notations also containing the figure $200,000, two back parachutes, two chest packs and under it a time of 5:00 p.m.

b6
b7c

Hostess [redacted] then went back to the compartment and sat with the hijacker at which time he insisted that all of the above items be physically present and waiting for them at the Seattle Airport upon their arrival and prior to their landing.

[redacted] received the impression that the above hijacking had been carefully thought out in advance in that the hijacker specified that the money was to be furnished in a knapsack and even insisted that a discarded match cover be returned to him. He also insisted on the return of the original note and the envelope and appeared especially careful to see that nothing of his was left behind.

[ ] stated that as soon as they verified the intentions of the hijacker, they immediately contacted the company via their radio connections concerning the situation but they did not alert the passengers nor did they press the emergency transponder code button signaling a hijacking to the control towers due to the hijacker's insistence of "no funny stuff".

They subsequently radioed the Seattle approach control tower and requested holding instructions in order they could remain airborne for the approximate 1½ hours which was estimated to be required in order that all of the items requested by the hijacker could be obtained.

[ ] noted that all of the demands of the hijacker were forwarded to the cockpit through hostess [ ] and at no time did he have occasion to personally observe or have any direct contact with him.

Inasmuch as Seattle was the destination and actual termination point for that flight, an announcement from the cockpit was made to the passengers that they were burning off excess fuel which helped put the other passengers at ease. In addition, the hostesses were instructed not to serve any additional drinks to any of the passengers.

It was further established that hostess [ ] was to act as intermediary between the hijacker and the individuals meeting the plane to supply his demands. The [ ] for Northwest Airlines and one other individual were to be in the first vehicle with the money, the second vehicle was to carry the stairs so that the hostess could exit from the front of the plane with only one driver designated for that vehicle, with a third vehicle being a fuel truck containing a driver only which was to remain in a 10 or 11 o'clock position from the plane in order that all would be in full view of the hijacker at all times.

After the plane had landed and the initial delivery made of the money and parachutes, the hijacker then forwarded through hostess [ ] the following instructions which he also listed: (1) They were going to Mexico City non-stop or if they could not reach Mexico City, anywhere in Mexico; (2) they would fly with landing gear down and flaps down; (3) they would not fly above 10,000 feet; (4) they would fly with the lights out in the cabin; (5) they were not to land in the U. S. for fuel or for any other reason; (6) there was to be no one aft of the first class curtain; (7) he indicated that after taking off, hostess [ ] would be allowed to visit the cockpit; (8) he wanted the rear door open and the stairs extended for taking off.

[ ] noted that at this point they informed him that it would be impossible to make a take-off with that aircraft in that position and the hijacker subsequently agreed to having the door closed with the stipulation that hostess [ ] could lower the stairs after the plane was airborne. [ ] noted that all of the above instructions were given on the ground at Seattle orally by the hijacker through TINA during the period she was carrying on the parachutes.

After the release of the passengers, and during the period of re-fueling, the hijacker became considerably annoyed at the delay in re-fueling and at the point where 96 per cent of the fuel was on board, he implied that the procedure was being deliberately delayed. The hijacker displayed a specific knowledge of flying and aircraft in general and that one in particular and they were finally able to convince him that the time being utilized was entirely necessary.

They subsequently informed the hijacker that under the operating conditions that he had stipulated, it would be impossible for them to reach Mexico City and he thereafter countered with the possible destination of Phoenix. Each point that he mentioned would be considered and rejected with the cities of Yuma; Sacramento and Reno being mentioned and a final agreement reached whereby the plane would fly to Reno, Nevada, as its initial destination.

[ ] stated that after take-off they flew at an indicated air speed of 170 knots which would have provided an estimated ground speed of 205 miles per hour.

b7c

LV 164-60

4

The hijacker was questioned concerning his intentions with regard to the bomb package and he responded through [ ] that he would either take it with him or disarm it at the time of his departure. Upon their departure from Seattle, they followed a course known as "Victor 23" which is a standard low altitude routing to Portland, and received clearance from Sacramento tower for Victor 23 at 10,000 feet.

[ ] recalled that initially after receiving descriptive data from hostess [ ] they radioed the company for any likely suspects or modus operandi and the company furnished the name of [ ] who had previously been arrested for being intoxicated and was suspected as a possibility of being the hijacker.

[ ] stated that departure from Seattle was made at 7:36 p.m. and at approximately 8:05 p.m. he called the hijacker on the intercom, inquired whether he could hear and whether there was anything they could do for him. The hijacker responded in the negative and the crew then decided that the hijacker was on board for the duration and they decided against any more tests or contacts with him until after they arrived at Reno, Nevada. Upon approaching Reno Airport, they tried to contact the hijacker with no response and they notified their company of same.

[ ] stated that approximately 5 to 10 minutes after the last contact with subject at 8:05 p.m., they heard and felt an oscillation of the aircraft and commented at the time that the hijacker could have departed, causing the unusual vibration since there had been no change in flight altitude, speed or any other external force which would account for this sudden oscillation. They telephoned the company [ ] in Minneapolis shortly thereafter, and stated that the oscillation, which could have been the hijacker's departure, would have occurred between 8:05 p.m. and their call to [ ] 5 or 10 minutes later, the exact time which would be recorded in the company log.

b7C

[ ] stated that they had not yet reached Portland proper but were definitely in the suburbs or immediate vicinity thereof.

[ ] added that the stipulations made for the reception of the aircraft at Reno, Nevada, were based on the same instructions that the hijacker had previously furnished prior to the landing at Seattle and no member of the crew departed from the cockpit to check on the presence of the hijacker following the arrival in the compartment of hostess [ ] who had locked the door behind her.

b6
b7c

[ ] added that it had not occurred to them at the time, but they could have pinpointed their exact location at the time the oscillation was felt and admitted that the crew had emergency exits from the pilot's compartment via the windshields and a rope ladder. Conceivably, following the departure of the passengers and during one of the periods that hostess [ ] was off the plane obtaining the parachutes, the remainder of the crew could have vacated the aircraft leaving the hijacker on board alone.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 11/30/71

[redacted] residence [redacted] was interviewed at the Reno Airport, Reno, Nevada, on the late evening of November 24, 1971, and early morning hours of November 25, 1971. She identified herself as a hostess on Northwest Airlines Flight 305.

Shortly after takeoff from Portland, Oregon, en route to Seattle, Washington, in the afternoon hours of November 24, 1971, a male passenger on the flight, who was seated in 18-E, gave a note to Hostess [redacted] showed the note to Hostess [redacted] who was also in the rear passenger compartment. The note indicated that the male individual was hijacking the plane and wanted the hostess to sit beside him. The note further indicated that he had a bomb and wanted $200,000.00. [redacted] stated she went back to the male passenger seated in 18-E with the note, at which time he indicated that he was hijacking the plane and was not kidding. He added that he wanted "no funny stuff". He had a black attache-type case in his lap, which case was partially open and he had his hand inside same. At this time [redacted] sat down alongside the individual in seat 18-D and after lighting a cigarette for the passenger, she told him that they would cooperate. Her best recollection is that it was while he told her he wanted no kidding and no funny stuff that he first partially opened the attache case and permitted her to see the contents. She recalls the contents as approximately eight cylindrical objects about six to eight inches long with four of the items being placed on top of the others and banded together with some kind of tape. She also recalled some covered and uncovered wiring running from the cylindrical objects to a dry cell type battery which had terminals on one end. She could not recall whether the wires were connected to the terminals. The battery was described as approximately eight inches long and about two and one-half inches in diameter. She stated that she had the impression upon observing the contents of the attache case that it was dynamite; however, she is unfamiliar with the appearance of dynamite and could only describe it as stated above, adding that it was of a reddish rusty color.

[redacted] then advised the pilot's compartment of the fact the plane was being hijacked via the intercom. She used the intercom while remaining in her seat inasmuch as it was close by and she could reach same from her seated position. It was with a pre-arranged signal of bells that she so advised the pilot's compartment. She also at that time on a plain envelope wrote out the demands of the hijacker, listing that he wanted four parachutes including two back packs and two chest packs, $200,000.00 in cash in small bills and that he wanted all this "by five o'clock". She recalls that [redacted] delivered this note to the pilot's compartment inasmuch as the hijacker insisted that she be physically present alongside him at all times. She recalled that she sat with him almost the entire time of the flight.

b7C

[redacted] recalled that during the flight from Portland to Seattle, all passengers were moved at least three rows forward from where the hijacker was seated. She stated that at one time he commented that "the bomb" he had was electrically fused and he certainly hoped the crew would not generate any electrical currents which would trigger it. In response to her query as to why he had chosen a Northwest airplane to hijack, she related his statement to the effect that he had "a grudge" but not against Northwest Airlines, adding that the Northwest plane just happened to be in the right place at the right time. In response to her query at one time during their conversation as to where he came from, [redacted] stated the hijacker was adamant in his refusal to answer and seemed somewhat provoked by the question. [redacted] recalled that frequently during her conversation with the hijacker he kept reminding her that the crew should attempt "nothing funny" and each time she assured him that he would receive the full cooperation of the crew.

b6
b7C

3

Sometime before going into the landing pattern at the Seattle - Tacoma Airport, the hijacker reiterated his previous instructions that all the items he had requested, including the money and the parachutes, must be available at the airport before he would permit the plane to land. He also instructed that upon landing, [redacted] was to be his intermediary in not only delivering messages to the crew but also in transferring the items that he had requested from the ground to him in the aircraft. He specifically instructed that upon landing only one unmarked automobile should approach the aircraft and it should approach and park in such a position that the hijacker could observe it at all times. He also instructed that the pickup rig which delivers the exit stairway to the forward compartment of the aircraft be available immediately upon landing in order that [redacted] could go out the forward door and contact the intermediary in the unmarked car to obtain the items he had requested. Additionally, he instructed that a fuel truck be available in the area upon landing and same fuel truck was to be manned by only one employee. He was insistent that every condition be met and that everything be available on the ground prior to the landing of the aircraft.

b7C

[redacted] recalls that the aircraft went into a holding pattern for a period of time she estimated over one hour and she stated she felt this was because all of the items the hijacker had requested were not yet available on the ground.

b6
b7C

After a period of time [redacted] said the aircraft landed and an announcement was made from the cockpit rather than by a hostess in the cabin, as is the normal procedure, to the effect that some mechanical difficulty had been encountered and the passengers were all requested to remain in their seats with their seat belts fastened. [redacted] recalls that the hijacker went to the nearby lavatory at this time stating he would return in a few minutes, at which time the stairway to the forward door should be ready. When he went to the lavatory, he closed the attache case and carried it with him. He came out of the lavatory in a matter of three or four minutes and again took the same seat he had occupied.

When the forward door stairway was attached, [redacted] departed the aircraft through the forward door as soon as the stairs were put in place. She noted there was one car parked at approximately ten o'clock to the aircraft, the pickup rig was in the area and a fuel truck immediately went about attempting refueling of the aircraft. She stated she obtained a bag from an unknown male individual who got out of the car which was parked near the aircraft and although she is unable to recall the precise wording, she was told that the bag contained the money requested. She took the bag reportedly containing the money back to seat 18-E, which seat was still occupied by the hijacker. He opened the bag and inspected the contents which [redacted] said she observed was money packed in small packages with bank-type bands around each package. Having inspected the money in a cursory fashion, the hijacker stated that "it looked okay" and then indicated to [redacted] that the crew could now permit the passengers to deplane. She stated that she called the cockpit on the intercom with this message and an announcement was made from the cockpit that passengers could at that time disembark. [redacted] recalled that she, in an attempt at being humorous, stated to the hijacker while the passengers were unloading that there was obviously a lot of money in the bag and she wondered if she could have some. The hijacker immediately agreed with her suggestion and took one package of the money, denominations unrecalled by [redacted] and handed it to her. She returned the money, stating to the hijacker that she was not permitted to accept gratuities or words to that effect. In this connection [redacted] recalled that at one time during the flight the hijacker had pulled some single bills from his pocket and had attempted to tip all the girls on the crew. Again they declined in compliance with company policy.

After the passengers deplaned, [redacted] stated that in accordance with instructions from the hijacker, she went out to get the parachutes he had requested. She brought back one large parachute (back pack) first, stating that she could only carry one parachute of this kind at a time. It was after she brought this first parachute into the aircraft that he told her to lower all the window shades in his section of the aircraft. After pulling down these shades, [redacted] then again left the aircraft and this time brought back the two smaller parachute packs (chest packs) and gave these to the hijacker. She made a last trip from the aircraft then to obtain another of the large parachute packs (another back pack). All of the parachutes were given to the hijacker and he was observed by [ ] to be looking them over as she left them with him. She also recalled that at this time all hostesses and male crew members were still aboard the aircraft.

b7c

At this point [ ] recalls discussing with the hijacker what the instructions were regarding future destination of the flight. Up to this point he had refused to tell her where he would order the flight to go. At this time, however, he told her not to worry, the flight was not going to Havana but it would go to a "pleasant place".

[ ] said that she obtained one of her pay sheets and by this time did have a pencil and took down the following instructions from the hijacker:

"Going to Mexico City -- or anyplace in Mexico -- nonstop -- gear down -- flaps down -- don't go over 10,000 feet altitude -- all cabin lights out -- do not again land in the States for fuel or any other reason -- no one behind the first class section".

[ ] forwarded this information to the cockpit and the hijacker also indicated that he wanted takeoff made with the rear door open and the stairs extended for takeoff. He had also indicated that in addition to the passengers, all of the hostesses would be allowed to exit the aircraft prior to their departure.

The crew, through [ ] informed the hijacker that takeoff in that aircraft with the door open and stairs extended would be an impossibility, and it was finally agreed that takeoff would be made with the door closed, stairs retracted, and [ ] would remain on board to lower the door and stairs after the aircraft was airborne.

The hijacker further indicated to [redacted] that as soon as this lowering of the door and stairs were accomplished in flight, she would be permitted to go to the pilot's compartment. During the period of furnishing these conditions, the hijacker became extremely annoyed over the time required to refuel the plane as he had ordered.

b7C

The hijacker displayed an extensive knowledge of the aircraft and seemed specifically well informed in refueling procedures to the point that the crew had difficulty in convincing him that only 96% of the required fuel was on board at the time he was protesting the fact that refueling had not been completed. It was also during this time (when he was upset concerning refueling) that he complained to [redacted] also that he had requested the money be delivered to him in a knapsack and instead it was delivered in a cloth bank-type bag, which displeased him. It was at this time that [redacted] recalls he stated that he would be forced to use one of the parachutes to rewrap the money since he had not been furnished a knapsack container. [redacted] recalled that it was at about this time she observed a small green paper bag (contents unknown). She stated that she recalled no other packages or luggage belonging to the hijacker except for the attache case and this small green paper bag. She also recalls that it was at about this time she again offered to get him something to eat or drink, which offer he refused as he had several previous offers. She clearly recalled that he accepted no refreshments of any kind while he was on board the aircraft.

[redacted] recalled that it was at this time that the hijacker requested that all notes, including the one he had furnished to [redacted] and those written by [redacted] to be returned to him. In this connection she also recalled that he was a chain smoker. At one time she lit a cigarette for him with the last match in the paper match folder. When she attempted to discard the empty card folder, the hijacker decisively took it from her and placed it into one of his pockets, stating he did not want her to throw it away. She recalled that he smoked Raleigh filter tips. In commenting concerning the hijacker's actions in general, she stated that she recalled some conversation to the effect that the parachutes were coming from Mc Chord Air Force Base. The hijacker remarked that it was about 20 minutes from Mc Chord to the Seattle - Tacoma Airport. She also recalled that while they were in the holding pattern prior to landing, he at one time looked out the window and observed "We're over Tacoma now". [redacted] indicated that there had been no announcement or no mention that the aircraft was over Tacoma and she accordingly concluded that the hijacker was familiar with the area.

b6

After refueling was completed and takeoff appeared imminent, the crew called on the intercom and advised that after checking with appropriate authorities, they had been told that the fuel load would not permit them to fly nonstop to Mexico City, or anywhere in Mexico, in fact. They pointed out that the range of fuel was such that they recommended landing to refuel somewhere in the San Francisco, California area. The hijacker countered with Phoenix, Arizona, as an alternative landing for refueling. When the crew responded in the negative due to the distance to Phoenix, Arizona, he at that time stated the aircraft could make Yuma, Arizona, or Reno, Nevada, and he preferred a landing in Reno, Nevada. The crew called back and stated they would proceed to Reno, Nevada.

[redacted] stated that upon takeoff from Seattle, the hijacker was in seat 18-D or E (occupying both seats at various times) and she was seated across the aisle in 18-C. It was during this time, as she recalls it, that he was occupied with opening one of the parachute packs (recalling the color of the parachute as a bright pink-orange color) and attempting to in some way pack the money in a parachute container in order that he could in some way attach it to his body along with the regular parachute straps. Her recollections in this regard were vague, but she stated she clearly recalled his removing a small jack knife from his pocket and cutting some portion of either the outside container or the parachute in order to secure the money in this rather than in the white bank-type bag which he had been furnished. Her recollection was that she did not see him tampering with the two large parachute containers other than to cursorily inspect them when she had brought them aboard.

b7C

LV 164-60

After the plane was airborne, there was conversation between [ ] and the hijacker regarding her opening the rear door and extending the stairway. She told him that she was fearful of being sucked out of the airplane and, accordingly, wanted to tie an emergency safety rope around her waist and attach it to a seat in order to prevent being sucked out of the door when she opened it. He told her at that time it would not be necessary for her to use the emergency safety rope inasmuch as he would cut one of the parachute shroud lines for her to insure her safety when she opened the door. It was at this time that he was still working with the parachute to in some way secure the money to his body. Shortly thereafter he asked her to demonstrate to him the procedure for opening the rear door and extending the stairway. She did this and was under the impression that he understood how to do it. She commented that it occurred to her at this time that this was the only function of the aircraft which she had discussed with the hijacker during the time she had been with him which he did not seem to be fully aware of. She stated that as a matter of fact, he had even shown a knowledge of where the oxygen bottles were located at an earlier time, which information she felt is normally known only to air crew personnel. While she could not recall specifically, she stated there were several other comments he made which indicated to her that he had an extensive technical knowledge of this particular type of aircraft and perhaps aircraft and flying in general. She also commented that he appeared to be completely familiar with the parachutes which had been furnished to him.

It was estimated by [ ] that in less than five minutes after takeoff, the hijacker suddenly told her to go forward of the aft compartment, to close the curtain behind her and not to return to the rear compartment again. She quickly complied with this request, going to the first class cabin, closing the curtain behind her, then proceeding to the cockpit and closing and locking the cockpit door behind her. She did not thereafter leave the pilot's compartment and had no further conversation with the hijacker face to face or via the intercom.

[redacted] furnished the following physical description of the unknown subject, it being noted that [redacted] is approximately 5'8" in height and she observed the hijacker in a seated position except for the brief period when he went to the lavatory. She also commented that at no time did he remove the dark glasses he was wearing and consequently, she was unable to observe his eyes or eyebrows:

PRESENT OFFENSE: Official Version: Official information available relates that on August 8, 1961 in Omaha, Nebraska, [redacted] took by force and violence and intimidation from an employee of the First Westside Bank at Crossroads Facility, Omaha, Nebraska, money in excess of $50,000 and U.S. Government bonds in excess of $20,000 and certain checks. Count III charged that while he was performing the bank robbery he willfully assaulted the bank employee and put him in jeopardy by using a gun. More detailed information concerning the offense was that Subject and his accomplice forced their way at gunpoint into the home of the bank manager and forced him and his wife to accompany them to the bank, where the bank manager in fear of his life was forced to open the vaults and turn the contents over to Subject. A rather brutal physical assault was perpetrated against the bank manager while he was being held at home. [redacted] plead guilty and on March 23, 1962 he received a 20-year sentence on Count I for the robbery and ten years on Count III for the assault, making a total of 30 years. His codefendant, [redacted] is at the present time in custody of authorities in the State of New York and federal prosecution will be processed.

INMATE'S VERSION: When interviewed here concerning his offense, [redacted] made the following statement: "I have no idea why I committed the present offense. My codefendant [redacted] I know nothing about." It was apparent that [redacted] had no plausible explanation as to why the offense was committed.

b6 per BOP

PERSONAL HISTORY: His parents are still living. The father, [redacted] is now 59 years of age, a native of Canada. Information available from the inmate's mother reveals that the father is in poor health at the present time and that he is steadily employed. His mother, [redacted] informs us she is 57 years of age, born in Massachusetts. She is gainfully employed as an administrative secretary at the present time in a private school for boys and maintains that she is self-supporting. She advises that due to the excessive drinking of Subject's father, she has deemed it best that he live outside of the home and although they are not legally separated, they are not living together only by mutual consent. The father does not furnish any financial assistance to the mother. Information available reveals that the father has been arrested on innumerable occasions for being drunk.

b6 per BOP

[redacted] has two brothers and a sister. Two children are deceased. He is not the only delinquent member of the family as his father was arrested on innumerable occasions for drunkenness and his brother [redacted] was in trouble as a juvenile. The mother points out that none of the other members of the family were ever involved in trouble.

[redacted] was born [redacted] the third child born in a family of six children. Two of the siblings are now deceased. The mother points out that he was a healthy child, walked at the age of nine months, progressed through the usual childhood diseases without any after-effects. He states that he enjoyed a warm relationship with his mother and father and also his sister and brothers, the relationship being more and more close to the mother due to the frequent absences of the father from the home. He was reared largely by his mother and due to the father being away from home so often, he was placed with relatives and in foster homes and orphanages at various times since the mother had an extremely difficult time supporting the four children.

he discontinued his schooling. From 1937 until 1945 he attended the St. Mary's School at Yonkers, New York, graduating from the eighth grade. From 1945 until 1948 he attended the Longfellow Junior High School in the same locality, going to the tenth grade, his schooling being discontinued when he went into the U.S. Army. While his mother points out and more or less emphasizes that he made an overall excellent adjustment during his formative years, it is believed that [REDACTED] got into numerous escapades during his youth and was somewhat of a juvenile delinquent in his home community. He is believed to have been more or less a constant delinquent since the age of twelve. However, he did not become involved in any serious difficulty until he was first picked up in May of 1949 on an auto theft charge.

On December 16, 1948 he entered the U.S. Army and was dishonorably discharged September 27, 1949. This was the result of a conviction for motor vehicle theft in Colorado for which he got into trouble in 1949. At that time he was committed to the state reformatory at Buena Vista, Colorado with an indeterminate sentence, served eleven months and was paroled. At the time [REDACTED] entered the Army he was 17 years of age and this was the first time that he had more or less permanently separated himself from the parental home. For receiving the civil conviction he received an Undesirable Discharge.

b7C per BOP

His mother points out that the beginning of his employment experience was his attempt in a small way to help her by shining shoes and thus be in a position to contribute to the household expenses. She states that whatever occupation he engaged in he did well and that his employers always had a good recommendation for him. Since leaving school and getting into trouble after joining the Army, [REDACTED] has spent the larger portion of his life in various penal institutions. He claims that he has not had any civilian work for the last ten years. He has worked at minor construction jobs and has worked as a salesman at times. Other than this, his work history can be considered insignificant.

After his release from the state reformatory in Buena Vista, Colorado in 1950, he returned to New York City and in November of 1950 was picked up on a robbery and burglary charge, and in April of 1951 served an indeterminate sentence at Riker's Island for petty larceny, this being stealing an automobile. At that time he is believed to have escaped from the institution. In January of 1952 he became involved in a robbery charge in West Virginia and received a 15-year sentence in the state penitentiary at Moundsville, West Virginia and was paroled from there November 1, 1955. At the time of his parole from the West Virginia institution he was taken into custody by New York authorities and returned on kidnaping, robbery, assault and escape charges. There is no information available as to how long he had to serve, but it is believed that he was paroled by that authority as he returned home and through the kindness of a certain county official he was given employment. His mother points out that he was doing very well at this county job, that he secured his own apartment, anticipated sharing it with her and his younger sister, and at this time her son was very happy and making new friends daily which gave him a feeling of security and contentment. He was reaching the point where he felt he had paid his debt to society, when elections came around and the official who had been so solicitous of his welfare was one of the candidates for office. The mother points out that the opponent made it known that her son was an ex-convict and the pressure became too great and he left town. Information available shows that he gravitated towards the west coast. At the time he left he absconded from parole supervision from New York State due to the Parole Officer's pressure and the political maneuvering he found himself in. In February, 1958 he and a companion robbed a home in Sacramento and threatened the occupants. For this he received a 5 year to life sentence in the State Prison in California for Robbery, 1st Degree, was paroled from there on May 27, 1960, taken back to West Virginia to satisfy a parole violation. He apparently was released by the Virginia authorities in March, 1961.

b6 per BOP

His mother informs us that as far as she knows her son has never married. He claims that on September 8, 1961 at Wise, W. Virginia he married a [redacted] Information available from the authorities in that locality state that a [redacted] and an [redacted] were married on September 8, 1961. Additional information reveals that a divorce was granted to [redacted] on March 21, 1962 at Cincinnati, Ohio. There were no children involved. [redacted] claims that his wife knew nothing of his past record and when she found it out she instituted divorce proceedings. After she discovered his prior criminal history she separated and he started to live in common-law relationship with another woman. He claims that he now has a fiancée by the name of [redacted] and information available from this woman states that she has known subject for nine months to a year and desires to correspond. She seems to be a suitable correspondent.

[redacted] then went west again where he became acquainted with the co-defendant in his current offense. He had already known this party, having met him while both were confined in the California institution. They finally gravitated to Omaha, Nebraska where they soon made up their minds to rob the bank which resulted in subject's present sentence.

b6 per BOP
b7C per BOP

CURRENT SITUATION: This 30 year old offender is serving his first Federal institutional sentence although he has served several prior State commitments and has been more or less constantly under confinement since 1949. He has been involved in several vicious robberies, has definitely indicated anti-social attitudes, shows little regard for his fellow man. He seems to be interested only in himself. While his mother feels that he is the victim of unfortunate circumstances and accumulative frustrations, it is more apparent that he has an aversion to work, feels that the world owes him a living. In all his escapades he has been armed, the victims have been seriously threatened and it is felt that [redacted] would not hesitate to harm people if they stood in his way. While serving the various State sentences [redacted] for the most part adjusted satisfactorily although he was involved in minor infractions of the regulations at times. He shows a history of escape, in 1951. [redacted] should be considered a Close custody risk, an individual who may have a difficult time settling down to the serving of his long sentence. He has no one who relies upon him for support and it will be many years before he is again released to society however based on his prior criminal activities he offers a rather dismal prognosis for a good future adjustment. His institutional adjustment will no doubt be routine with minor difficulties encountered at times. He has shown considerable migratory habits during the past years, has never settled in any locality long enough to establish bonafide residence and for all practical purposes he must be considered a transient.

He states he suffered a fractured nose in 1949; a fractured skull in 1949, claims hospitalization for 6 months. He gives a history of a acid indigestion, no problem now. b7C per BOP

PSYCHIATRIC SUMMARY : _____ was seen for psychiatric evaluation after he gave an unconfirmed past psychiatric history of being hospitalized on two previous occasions. He indicates that he was hospitalized in 1950 for pre-sentencing observation for a period of 5 weeks at the Valhalla State Hospital at Valhalla, New York. After the five weeks period of observation he was returned to the court being found to be mentally competent and sentenced.

His second hospitalization occurred at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville, California, under the name of _____ with a number of 45892. This Vacaville hospitalization was not actually a real psychiatric hospitalization. He was at Vacaville originally as a new case admitted as routine to the reception center. He was retained there as a worker but was a patient status. He indicates that he was sent there by the state court but not for any overt psychiatric disorder. He states that he was an inmate clerk during his stay at this institution and received no psychiatric treatment except group therapy during his incarceration there.

In connection with his current offense he received a psychiatric pre-sentence evaluation while incarcerated at Omaha, Nebraska. He was again declared competent and responsible by the court. The request for pre-sentence psychiatric examination was made by inmate's attorney. The inmate presented no particular overt symptoms. The examination was requested supposedly because of the serious nature of the offense and accordingly an examination ordered by the court without other indications for questioning competency or sanity.

In reviewing this man's past social adjustment we find that since he was 12 years of age he has been involved in numerous law violations. As a youth he became involved in truancy and stealing and as an adult he was incarcerated for Robbery, Car Theft, and Bank Robbery. He is presently serving a 30 year sentence for Bank Robbery and Assault.

_____ has never presented any symptoms of overt psychiatric disturbance in the past. He has been hospitalized on two occasions for presentencing evaluation but was found to be mentally competent. His other hospitalization was at the California Medical Facility where he was sent as an inmate worker but received no treatment for any overt psychiatric disturbance other than group psychotherapy on the basis of his character disorder. He actually has never suffered a nervous breakdown. At the present time he denies the chronic use of alcohol or narcotics. He presents a satisfactory interview impression. He appears to be interested in a clerical assignment and other than his basic character disorder does not present any overt psychiatric symptoms at the present time.

[REDACTED] - INFORMANT

[REDACTED] was interviewed by SA [REDACTED] at his residence at Seabeck, Washington. He advised he is acquainted with KARL FLEMING of Newsweek magazine, having contacted him after seeing an ad in the local Seattle area newspapers requesting information from D.B. COOPER. [REDACTED] stated that after observing the ad, he ran an ad of his own in the local Bremerton newspaper in an effort to obtain business for his realstate interests. He stated the ad he ran read, "D.B. COOPER have 2 1/2 acre tract. Will defer downpayment." Based on this ad, he received a number of telephone calls, most of which he felt were from pranksters. He stated however, he did receive one telephone call one night at approximately 1:00 AM, and felt that because of the time of the call, and the fact that he could hear no background noise to indicate the call came from a tavern, he felt that this call had some validity.

He stated he recognized the voice of the caller as an individual known to him and instructed the caller to phone him back the next day, however, he did not receive a return call. Concerning the identity of this individual, [REDACTED] stated he does not desire to disclose his identity as he feels that this individual will contact him in an effort to invest the $200,000 through investment channels which are open to [REDACTED] stated that he does not feel that it is surprising he has not been contacted previously concerning this investment inasmuch as the appropriate time for investments is between June and August, and he feels that this individual will recontact him during this time in an effort to have the money invested.

On May 10, 1972, the "Seattle Flag", a liberal newspaper in Seattle, ran an article concerning this matter. In the article the "Flag" editor reportedly had a conversation with an individual who claimed to be identical with unsub in this matter. As part of the evidence to substantiate his claim, unsub reportedly made available xerox copies of a $20 bill which was reportedly part of the ransom money. The serial number on this bill was L51279635A, series 1969.

It is noted that the serial number of the $20 bill used in the Seattle "Flag" article is identical with the $20 bill recently obtained from Secret Service, who in turn obtained it from a local Seattle service station. This $20 bill was passed by a white female who apparently did not know of the alteration that had been made to it. The last three digits in the serial number have been changed by cutting out three digits from a $1 bill and inserting them into a $20 bill, using scotch tape.

This $20 bill will be retained in the 1A section of the Seattle file 164-81.

Dear [Redacted]

I am responding to your letter of May 4 wherein you request information which you feel will help you determine whether or not your story about "D. B. Cooper" is bona fide.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is the investigating agency on the hi-jacking of November 24, 1971, and I have asked the agents assigned to the case to be in touch with you regarding your request.

Very truly yours,

Sir:

On Monday, May 1, we printed an interview from one D.B. Cooper, who is listed, I believe, in your files as the only successful American Skyjacker.

On Tuesday, May 2, you apprehended two men who were attempting to sell, or had sold, a story to Karl Fleming. I am quite willing to tell you that at no time was I ever approached by either individual, nor have I ever traveled to Bremerton or been in the Swept Wing Inn. Nor would I ever go there.

For the sake of determining whether our interview is bona fide, I would ask you to open your D.B. Cooper file so that we may compare interview facts with the information you have gathered. Similarly, it would assist such a determination, if you could present the xeroxed bill for comparison.

Sincerely,

PS: Sorry about the Chief.

I called SA ROBERT MATHESON at the Bureau on 5/5/72. I told him that obviously this matter was basically a fraud and in view of this we planned on interviewing a person at the SEATTLE FLAG to determine the source of the story, advising him that the bill was a forgery and seek the identity of the person interviewed. Result of examination:

The twenty-dollar bill appearing on page 2 of Q48 was compared with the corresponding bill represented by K4. In the comparison, a photographic overlay of the Q48 bill showed the serial number on this bill to be out of register with the serial number on the K4 bill.

Re Seattle teletype to Bureau 5/1/72; Seattle teletype to Alexandria and WFO dated 5/2/72 and WFO teletype dated 5/3/72 to the Bureau and Seattle.

Enclosed for the FBI Laboratory is one reel of microfilm which was prepared in connection with the $200,000 ransom money which eventually was paid to the hijacker in captioned case.

The above referenced Seattle teletype to Alexandria advised that a copy of the "SEATTLE FLAG" publication dated 5/10/72, was being sent to Alexandria and then to the Bureau via WFO. It is noted that on Page 2 of the "SEATTLE FLAG" there appears a reproduction of a $20 bill which allegedly bears serial number L 51279635 A, which is a serial number of one of the ransom bills.

REQUEST OF BUREAU

1. Compare the $20 bill appearing on the microfilm with the reproduction in the "SEATTLE FLAG" to determine whether or not it is authentic and thereafter advise Seattle.

The bill itself has been located on the microfilm and has been marked with a small piece of paper on the film itself. The approximate location of that bill on the film is approximately at the arrow which has been Scotch taped to the outside of the reel.

RE: UNSUB; SEATTLE FLAG PUBLICATION, 5/10/72

On May 1, 1972, I called SA HENRY SCHULTZ at the Bureau and told him that we had received information from the news media wherein the Seattle Flag, an underground newspaper in Seattle, had a headline article which would be on the street on May 2, 1972, reportedly containing an interview with the hijacker and displaying a copy of the bill, serial number of which coincided with one of the hijacked bills.

I told him that a very quick look at the article showed substantial discrepancies. In addition, we were checking the microfilm of the hijacked bills to see if it coincided with the bill reportedly in the newspaper and I would let him know.

Re "Seattle Flag" 5/10/72.

A review of the article concerning D.B. COOPER appearing in the May 10 issue of the "Seattle Flag" reveals the following discrepancies between the article and the actual hijacking:

1. In the article, the interviewee states he sat in seat 15 D, whereas the hijacker actually sat in seat 18 E.

2. The interviewee in the article states that he landed over 100 miles away from Southwest Washington. This would be in conflict with the indications of the test flight run by Northwest Airlines.

3. The interviewee states that he knew that with down flaps the stalling speed of the 727 was 109 miles per hour. This information would not appear to be known at Northwest Airlines, as there was some question at their office the night of the hijacking as to whether or not the plane could fly with 15 degree flaps.

4. In the article, the interviewee states one of the reasons he selected a 727 was because the lavatories in the rear were a handy place to hold a stewardess hostage, which turned out to be right. In another place the interviewee states he held stewardess hostage part of the time behind the rear galley curtain and part of the time in the toilet. This is not true, inasmuch as the hijacker did not hold the stewardess hostage in either of these locations.

[REDACTED] also advised that [REDACTED] either found some white cloth on the ground or saw it hanging from a tree in the same area of Kalama, Washington. Further she stated a friend of her [REDACTED] made some comment about parachute risers being seen in the area.

This incident took place in a wooded area outside of Kalama, Washington, exact location not known by [REDACTED] and the reason [REDACTED] and his associate did not go to the area where the money was observed floating on the air was that there was too much snow.

On June 1, 1972, witness [redacted] was exhibited photographs of the following individuals:

FRED ANGELO CATALANO	Subfile 245

RAY CHARLES COFFMAN	Subfile 241
BILLIE LEE MC GILL	Subfile 247

REX ALLEN ALEXANDER	Subfile 240
BEN R. KANE	[redacted]

With the exception of CATALANO, [redacted] stated none of the other individuals bear any resemblance to the hijacker and in his opinion are not identical with him.

[redacted] believed the photograph of CATALANO bore a very strong resemblance to the hijacker. He particularly noted the hairline, stating that if the hair in the photograph observed was marcelled as was the hijacker's, it would be an exceptionally good likeness. He further noted strong similarities in the high cheekbones, the long nose, and eyes as he remembered the hijacker.

He was unable to determine from the photograph the complexion of CATALANO but again emphasized the hijacker had a swarthy or Latin type complexion and it appeared to him CATALANO might have such a complexion. He would prefer to see a color photograph and additional photographs of CATALANO.

I know a man who looks very much like the first composite drawing of the plane hijacker "Cooper" appearing in the paper last fall.

He quit his job in Puget Sound Navy Yard about this time, bought a new Datsun station wagon. He pays support money to two ex-wives for four children and is living with another woman.

He is a sky diver and has chutes of his own. Am told he recently had contact with some underworld characters in California, is talking of moving to Fiji to live.

More recent, he started a bike business in the University District somewhere with a business promotion of some sort which keeps him in touch with the underworld, I am told.

This young man is light complected. The woman he lives with is a beautician and could very easily dye and bleach his hair in a short while. He lives in a house owned by a [ ] who lives nearby on Long Lake out of Port Orchard, Wash.

b6
b7c

His name is [ ] The woman he lives with is Virginia Hill.

[ ] is supposed to be financing a movie business in California and other deals.

Would someone take this money off his hands and keep it for a while for a good part of it? Otherwise where does he get all this prosperity [ ]

He also has a partner in this business, whose name I do not know. But had nothing to begin with either, so the story goes.

He particularly noted the hairline, stating that if the hair in the photograph observed was marcelled as was the hijacker's, it would be an exceptionally good likeness. He further noted strong similarities in the high cheekbones, the long nose, and eyes as he remembered the hijacker.

He was unable to determine from the photograph the complexion of CATALANO but again emphasized the hijacker had a swarthy or Latin type complexion and it appeared to him CATALANO might have such a complexion. He would prefer to see a color photograph and additional photographs of CATALANO. Sub. 416

RE: REMNANTS OF A PARACHUTE HARNESS FOUND IN SKAMANIA COUNTY

The remnants of a parachute harness, located by the Sheriff's Office in Skamania County, were inspected on 5-31-72 by EARL J. COSSEY who advised that they are remnants of a parachute harness but positively are not part of any of the four he packed and which were used in the hijack situation. His elimination was based on the fact that the straps are olive drab whereas the missing chute is sage green in color. Further, one of the remnants has a piece sewn to it to extend its length, plus the fact that part of the remnants found was a Capewell quick-release which the missing chute does not have.

RE SEATTLE NITEL MAY THIRTY LAST.

SEARCH OF THE AREA WHERE ORIGINAL PARACHUTE REMNANT WAS DISCOVERED BY [REDACTED] REVEALED ADDITIONAL PIECES OF PARACHUTE HARNESS. ALL OF THESE REMNANTS WERE EXAMINED TODAY BY EARL J. COSSEY, MASTER PARACHUTE RIGGER, WHO PERSONALLY MADE UP ALL FOUR OF THE PARACHUTES FURNISHED TO THE HIJACKER IN THIS CASE. HE STATED THE REMNANTS DEFINITELY ARE NOT FROM ANY OF THE CHUTES HE PREPARED. THIS ELIMINATION IS BASED ON THE FACT THAT THE STRAPS ARE A DIFFERENT COLOR; THAT ONE OF THE STRAPS HAS HAD A PIECE HAND SEWN TO EXTEND THE LENGTH OF THE STRAP AND FURTHER THAT THE HARNESS IS EQUIPPED WITH A "CAPEWELL" QUICK RELEASE DEVICE, WHICH WAS NOT ON EITHER OF THE BACK PACKS FURNISHED TO THE HIJACKER.

b7c

COSSEY HAS MORE IN DEPTH KNOWLEDGE OF THE FOUR PARACHUTES MENTIONED ABOVE SINCE HE ACTUALLY ASSEMBLED THEM FROM THE COMPONENTS AND THEN FURNISHED THE TWO BACK PACKS TO [REDACTED] HE THEREFORE IS IN THE BEST POSITION TO IDENTIFY THESE CHUTES.

b6
b7c

SINCE COSSEY HAS POSITIVELY ELIMINATED THE ABOVE MENTIONED REMNANTS AS BEING IDENTICAL WITH ANY PART OF THE CHUTES FURNISHED TO THE HIJACKER, THE REMNANTS ARE NOT BEING FURNISHED TO THE LABORATORY.

RE: PARACHUTE FOUND IN SKAMANIA COUNTY

Supervisor [ ] called from the Bureau. He said that Asst. Director BATES and Mr. GALLAGHER were extremely interested in our teletype about the parachute and wanted us to consider a further search in the area; consider sending material to the Laboratory and also to show the material we found to the person we got the chutes from.

b6

I told [ ] that we would certainly do whatever is necessary to either establish or eliminate this as the one used in the crime, as soon as possible.

I called [ ] He said that 41 miles east of Woodland on the Lewis River Road and 7 miles north of the Lewis River Ranger Station, on an unapproved highway, is an informal camp ground used by many hikers, hunters and fishermen and this is where the straps were found. They were found on 5/28/72 by a camper. The two pieces in [ ] possession are each about 20" long, 1 3/4" wide, greyish-green in color, made of webbing with some kind of plastic material on the back. Each piece had been burned on each end. One of the pieces has the number 12345 on the back. They were found in the remains of an old fire, partially concealed through the natural accumulation of dirt, pine needles, etc. They were actually found by a woman scrapping around in the ground trying to find a place for a sleeping bag.

b6
b7C

The third piece which [ ] does not yet have, but which he will get this morning, allegedly has a name on the back -- EISNER Company, 1/52, and number 5010857.

b6
b7C

I requested [ ] to get that piece as soon as possible; to bring them all to Seattle; take them out and show them to COSEY, the man who owned the parachute. He said he should be here in Seattle sometime early this afternoon.

On 8/15/72 [redacted] VA Center, St. Paul, advised that CARLSON has been a regular at the outpatient clinic since prior 1970 with a diagnosis of schizophrenic of the paranoid type. On 11/22/71 he telephoned the clinic at 2 a.m., at which time he appeared to be inebriated and stated that he was upset. He was sent tranquilizing medicine, which is common in his case. He again telephoned on 11/24/71 requesting further medication. And again was in contact with the clinic telephonically on 12/6/71. He presently continues to receive treatment and is in regular contact with the clinic.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 7/20/73

ALVIN CURTIS HARTLEY appeared at the Glenwood Springs Resident Agency on the morning of July 11, 1973, and was immediately furnished a 'Waiver of Rights' form which he read, advised he understood but refused to sign.

HARTLEY again emphasized that he had nothing to do with the hijacking of Northeast Airlines Flight #305, again stating that at that time he had suffered a broken left wrist and at this particular time was in a cast. It was pointed out to HARTLEY that investigation with [redacted] [redacted] Las Vegas, Nevada, reflected that he had appeared at the doctor's office on May 31, 1973 with a broken left wrist. It was further pointed out to HARTLEY that the doctor had indicated he had changed the cast only on two occasions while HARTLEY had previously mentioned that he had changed the cast approximately four to five times. HARTLEY advised he did not care what the records at the doctor's office showed and that he had only gone to the one doctor and that he did have at least four separate casts replaced on his broken arm. He advised he kept the cast on through January and February of 1972.

HARTLEY advised that he had had back surgery the summer of 1960 by [redacted] at the Southern Nevada Hospital, Las Vegas, Nevada. He stated he is currently able to do fairly strenuous exercise but he personally would not feel capable of jumping from an aircraft and would feel he would seriously damage his back.

It was pointed out to HARTLEY that the simplest procedure for eliminating him as a suspect in this case was for him to furnish elimination major case prints which he agreed to do. HARTLEY was taken to the Glenwood Springs Police Department where he was major case printed.

ALVIN CURTIS HARTLEY was contacted at his residence, the [redacted] of Rangely, telephone number 675-2085, on April 24, 1973, and immediately advised the identify of the interviewing Agent and furnished a copy of the "Interrogation; Advice of Rights" form. HARTLEY was informed that the FBI was conducting an investigation in an effort to determine the identity of the hijacker of the Northeast Airlines Flight #305, which was hijacked on November 24, 1971. He was informed that in view of his physical description and previous experience as a paratrooper, that he had been considered as one of the suspects. HARTLEY read the "Interrogation; Advice of Rights" form and said that he was very willing to talk about aircraft hijackings as he had never had anything to do with an aircraft hijacking, but that he did not wish to sign the form.

b7C

HARTLEY advised that he is self-employed as a dredger in the mining business and during the year of 1971, stayed primarily in Las Vegas, Nevada. He stated that he had a camper truck and parked the camper at the [redacted] in Las Vegas. He advised he travelled fairly widely, at times residing with his mother, Mrs. EDNA SPIEE, nee ROGERS, 2444 North 14th Street, in Tucson, Arizona. He stated that during 1971, he did travel from time to time to Reno, Nevada, and on one occasion, travelled up to Van Goober, British Columbia, only in reference to mining operations. HARTLEY advised he was hazy on dates, and could not remember specifically what he was doing on November 21, 1971, but did recall that during August, or September, 1971, he had fallen from a horse and broke his left wrist. He stated he had trouble with the wrist having fallen on one occasion after he had the cast on where he reinjured it. He stated a [redacted] address unrecalled, a general practitioner in Las Vegas, treated him for the broken wrist and that he had a cast on the wrist for approximately five months. He advised that to the best of his recollection, the cast would have been removed during January, or February, 1972.

by SA CLIFTON BROWNING, JR.:cw Date dictated 4/27/73

HARTLEY displayed a 12" surgical scar in the lower lumbar region of his back, stating that he had had two vertebrae and one disc removed from his back in 1960, and was unable to do any real strenuous exercises. He advised he had gone through jump training at Ft. Benning, Georgia, during 1945, and had not jumped out of an airplane since he left the military. HARTLEY stated he would have a difficult time jumping off a three-foot step in view of his back condition and would not attempt to do any jumping for fear that he would seriously injure himself.

HARTLEY advised he was not in the Seattle area during November, 1971, and emphatically denied participating in any aircraft hijacking, stating he had been in the mining business for approximately ten to eleven years and did very little flying. HARTLEY further advised that he was not a qualified pilot and knew little about aeronautics.

HARTLEY stated he did not wish at this time to furnish fingerprints, advising that he was arrested in 1969, in Los Angeles, California, carrying a concealed weapon and that the FBI should have a record of his prints. HARTLEY was informed that to enable the FBI to fully eliminate him as a suspect, the Agent would like to have him furnish major case fingerprints. HARTLEY advised he would discuss this procedure with his attorney and if his attorney agreed, he would furnish the prints at a later time. HARTLEY requested that the Bureau verify his alibi of having a broken arm at the time the hijacking occurred.

During the conduct of the interview, HARTLEY was very evasive about any specific dates or his mining activities.

An evaluation of the leads set forth for the Phoenix Division in Denver letter to the Bureau, dated 2/21/73, indicates they were not initially set forth to develop information to answer questions regarding HARTLEY as set out in Seattle airtel to Albuquerque, dated 4/3/73.

RE: Suspect ALVIN CURTIS HARTLEY

On 2/5/73, Chief of Police FERTIG, Huntington Park Police Department (HPPD), Huntington Park, California, who has served with that department for 32 years, advised he personally recalls AL HUNTLEY, who was hired as a patrolman on 4/3/50 and resigned without giving notice on 9/8/51.

Chief FERTIG added that HARTLEY served in the Patrol Division while he, FERTIG, was a lieutenant in the Patrol Division. He described HARTLEY as completely unsuitable for police work. HARTLEY constantly talked about "making it big" and once, a few years after HARTLEY left the HPPD, FERTIG met him in Las Vegas. At that time he recalls HARTLEY was "bum repping" the Las Vegas Police Department with whom he had taken a job as an officer after leaving Huntington Park. He recalls HARTLEY made some remarks about going to Cuba and having some connection with [redacted] in gambling. After a short time with Hartley treating him, [ ] was taken into Hartley's confidence and he advised [ ] in substance that Hartley was making plans for a trip to Ecuador to pick up a load of "gold" and narcotics and return them illegally into the United States. Hartley allegedly has access to a plane, and claimed that the pilot had flown to Ecuador on previous occasions on similar type trips, that the pilot knew the air routes to use whereby he could avoid detection. Hartley invited [ ] to join in the venture and indicated he would get an appropriate share of the proceeds.

It was explained to [ ] that the Federal Bureau of Investigation did not have investigative jurisdiction in matters concerning smuggling and/or narcotics. [ ] stated he would be most happy to furnish the information to the Federal Bureau of Narcotics or U. S. Customs Bureau and would be happy to work with them if they desired.

Accordingly, Special Agent [ ] telephonically contacted [ ] Federal Bureau of Narcotics, Los Angeles, on the morning of February 10, 1969. [ ] stated he would contact the U.S. Customs Bureau in Los Angeles to coordinate the matter, and would telephonically contact Special Agent [ ] with the desired course of action.

No information was received from [ ] and [ ] attempted to contact Special Agent [ ] in Las Vegas on two occasions on February 11, 1969.

Special Agent [ ] then telephonically contacted [ ] on February 11, 1969, at which time he was again advised of the information furnished by [ ]. Additionally, [ ] was advised that [ ] had informed that his true name was [ ]. [ ] stated that he had used the name of [ ] for many years although he had never legally changed it. After talking with [redacted], he requested that [redacted] be contacted and advised to telephonically contact him collect at telephone number [redacted]

At approximately 4:30 PM, [redacted] telephonically contacted this office and he was requested to telephonically contact [redacted] as set forth above to which [redacted] agreed and stated he would call immediately.

[redacted] said he did not hear from [redacted] again but [redacted] in L&L Insurance Company continued to call. He told [redacted] that the Central America company selling the gold had 17,000 ounces in bonded warehouses in Mexico City. He said an answer for the company was a value on the gold being [redacted] instead of the bank of Montreal. He indicated the potential buyer at the bank of Montreal. The gold is to be flown from the Central America country to Belize, British Honduras in the Gulf of Mexico. Then the gold is to be flown on a converted B-26 from Belize to Arrula, Dutch West Indies. [redacted] wanted Lloyds of London to insure the gold from Belize to Arrula.

[redacted] stated he investigated the information supplied by the L&L Insurance Company. He determined there was no Guarantee or Guardian Title Trust Company in El Paso, Texas or Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

He was told the final refining was to be done in England, however 98% of the gold in the world is refined at Anglohart, Company, in Newark, New Jersey.

[redacted] said he was telephonically advised that the agent for the buyer had leased one B-26 from Domain Corporation. The plane, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) registration number [redacted] would be piloted by [redacted] who is from Deer Valley Airport, Phoenix, Arizona. This plane was to make one trip with the gold while insured by Lloyds of London with 5 long tons of gold.

Investigation by [redacted] found that there was no such tail number as [redacted] issued to a plane, and the FAA does not issue G flight numbers. The B-26 that the converted B-26 could possibly carry was two tons, and not 5 long tons.

On September 19, 1966, [redacted] said he received the last call from [redacted]. He said the gold was ready to move, the papers were in order and he still wanted Lloyds of London to insure the flight. This call culminated between 30 and 35 calls that [redacted] received from L&L Insurance Company.

NY 87-824

[redacted] later determined from London Brokers that individuals in the Southwest United States were trying to insure the transportation of gold by various methods for the next 14 years. These plans varied from the finding of lost Inca treasures to transportation of lost gold bars.

During HARTLEY's employment with the Las Vegas Police Department there were several instances wherein he sustained injuries such as pulled muscles, ligament strains, etc., for which he has received compensation from superior officers of the Las Vegas Police. When he resigned on 3/26/60 he listed financial reasons as that force dictating his resignation but officers interviewed indicated had he not resigned he would have been fired.

In May of 1959 a warrant was received by the Las Vegas Police Department from the Sheriff's Office in Ventura, California charging HARTLEY with failure to provide. HARTLEY communicated with the Ventura, California authorities and was successful in having the complaint withdrawn and the warrant dismissed. In addition, on March 17, 1959, the Internal Revenue Service attached HARTLEY's salary until a total of $1414.40 was made. This amount was due IRS for the following tax arrears:

1954	$430.28
1955	675.03
1957	209.09

b6
b7C

LV 87-4284

It was observed upon reviewing HARTLEY's file that there were numerous complaints against him for the manner in which he dealt with the public, and there were three separate complaints from female citizens of Las Vegas who claimed that they had given HARTLEY money which he had failed to repay. The most recent information coming to the attention of the Las Vegas Police Department concerning HARTLEY was on 8/1/65. At that time Detective [redacted] Las Vegas Police Department, telephonically contacted this Office to advise that one [redacted] had contacted him to advised that HARTLEY was selling guns to China. She also advised that HARTLEY had permission to use a 1964 Oldsmobile belonging to [redacted] and had taken the car on 5/13/65 but had failed to return it. This car was recovered from HARTLEY by the Las Vegas Police on 6/1/65. Detective [redacted] stated that he had heard that HARTLEY had been in the Arizona area and may have been involved in some gold dealings. [redacted] was unable to furnish any additional information and stated if such were available [redacted] may have it.

As a result of the information concerning the selling of guns to China, a Registration Act case has been opened on HARTLEY and a copy of this letter is being directed to that file.

HARTLEY has a very poor credit report having had numerous items of collection from such debts as doctor, dentist, lumber, fuel, etc.

In interviews with Las Vegas Police officers acquainted with HARTLEY and in review of the files of the Las Vegas Office there has been no information developed which reflects that HARTLEY has any connection whatsoever with the "Mafia".

THE PHOENIX DIVISION

Will display photograph of HARTLEY to ascertain if he is identical with ALVIN HARTLEY referred to in referenced Phoenix letter to the Bureau. If additional investigation or interview of HARTLEY is necessary, Phoenix advise Las Vegas.

On August 1, 1972, [REDACTED] Tombstone, was interviewed concerning the matter under investigation and was questioned concerning his knowledge of a Mr. AL HARTLEY. [REDACTED] explained that he thought HARTLEY could possibly be a suspect in this matter because HARTLEY is a "con man", possibly a former paratrooper, and is now living in Mexico. [REDACTED] described HARTLEY as being nearly 60 years old, in poor physical condition, with gray hair, 6' to 6' 1" in height, 150-160 pounds.

[REDACTED] advised that he thought HARTLEY previously lived in Las Vegas where he worked as a city detective. Prior to that, he allegedly lived somewhere in California where he might have a record.

Phoenix is requested to contact [redacted], Tombstone, Arizona, and obtain from him any information he might have to indicate that HARTLEY should be a suspect in this matter.
